JOHN CALVIN ON THE PSALMS

RTF-USA has been working on our extended set of Commentary on the Psalms by John Calvin for several years now. We received the original translation from a gifted pastor, then the text went into the long review process. Volume 1 was released in 2025, covering Psalms 1–30. Volume 2 covers Psalms 31–60, where the Psalms speak of God as "my strong rock" (Psalm 31), a "house of defense" (Psalm 31), "my rock and my fortress" (Psalm 31), "my hiding place" (Psalm 32), "our shield" (Psalm 33), etc.

John Calvin's Commentary on the Psalms

Calvin's Commentaries have been a classic resource for Christian churches worldwide since the Reformation. RTF-USA is pleased to bring this new commentary to Chinese-speaking Christians. As we have seen evidence in the usage numbers on our website, commentaries continue to be one of our most popular offerings in recent years. To help with this need, we have worked to increase our free commentary library. Pastors, teachers, and church members will all benefit from Calvin's in-depth analysis of the Psalms.

NEW CHINESE RELEASES THIS FALL

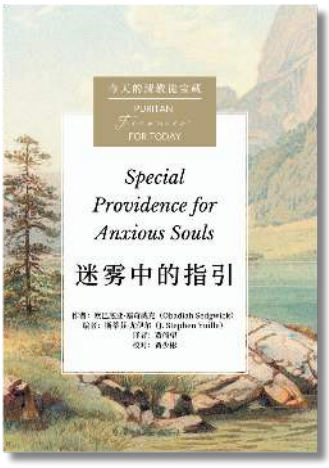

Since the printing of the Summer Newsletter, RTF-USA has completed several new Simplified Chinese titles for addition to our library. These new books were made possible by your donations and gifts. We are so thankful for our supporters! You can find these titles on our website at www.rtf-usa.com.

1) The Puritans on Conversion. "The Puritans showed great pastoral concern about how people respond to the gospel. They emphasized that genuine conversion is not a mere profession of faith but a supernatural change of heart that results in a Godward way of life. This volume presents three classic treatises that will help you better understand the necessity and nature of true conversion." This text features three selections by Samuel Bolton, Nathaniel Vincent, and Thomas Watson.

2) Special Providence for Anxious Souls, by Obadiah Sedgwick. "Worry. Anxiety. Fear. These attitudes are well-known to anyone who desires to please God in the midst of our sin-cursed world. How can we know that the trials we face are working together for good? In Special Providence for Anxious Souls, Obadiah Sedgwick reminds us how God makes everything work for His glory and our highest good." This book is the next of many upcoming texts in the Puritan Treasures series from Reformation Heritage Books. You can see their extensive catalog of books at www.heritagebooks.org.

3) Outlines of Theology by A.A. Hodge. Charles Spurgeon recognized the importance of Hodge's work: "We commend the Outlines of Theology to all who would be well instructed in the faith. It is the standard textbook of our college. We differ from its teachings upon baptism, but in almost everything else we endorse Hodge to the letter." A.A. Hodge was the son of Charles Hodge, a missionary to India, a pastor in the USA, and a professor at Princeton Seminary. This book is now finally completed and available on our website. We are thankful for all of the support that made this work possible.

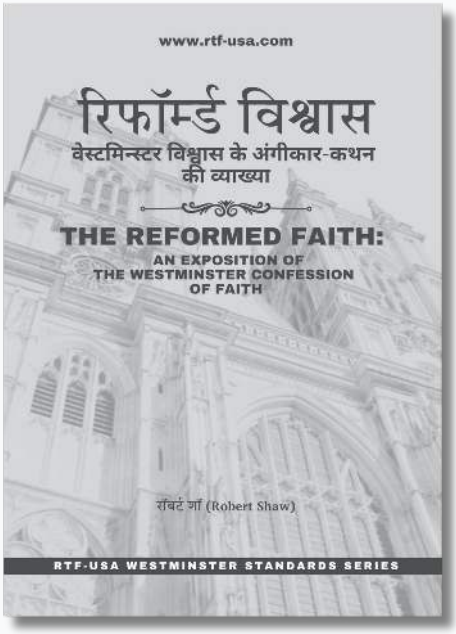

New titles by Samuel Bolton, Nathaniel Vincent, Thomas Watson, Obadiah Sedgwick, and A. A. Hodge.

As RTF-USA has done for many years, we continue to monitor the publishing needs of the churches in China. It is our desire to provide rich theological resources consistent with our confessional Reformed roots. We have been laboring in this great calling since 1948. Will you consider supporting our work? Each year we are forced to postpone projects because of a lack of funds. With your help we can continue to provide these simplified Chinese resources for Christians worldwide.

HINDI: COMMENTARY ON WCF

As one of our largest projects, RTF-USA has invested great effort to translate Robert Shaw's Commentary on the Westminster Confession of Faith into as many languages as possible in recent years. Our Hindi team has now completed this classic work alongside our Chinese, Nepali, and Spanish texts. Portuguese and Japanese are soon to follow.

"The Westminster Confession is the most accurate and comprehensive creed so far produced by the church. Many of its statements are short explanations of a profound doctrine that needs to be unpacked. The classic explanation of the Confession provides a thorough theological grounding." Robert Shaw (1795–1863) was a 19th-century Scottish Presbyterian theologian and minister.

URDU: EVERYONE'S A THEOLOGIAN

Printed copies of Everyone's a Theologian for Pakistan.

Our Urdu team has recently completed Everyone's a Theologian by Dr. R.C. Sproul. "Everyone's a Theologian introduces readers to the structure and purpose of systematic theology, presenting the principal doctrines of the Christian faith in an accessible and organized manner." Having recently completed this important work in simplified Chinese, we are excited to see the potential of the Urdu edition introduced to a church in need of solid Reformed resources to guide church leaders and pastors.

In our partnerships with Ligonier Ministries and the Urdu Center for Reformed Theology, we are happy to support the printing and distribution of this wonderful resource. Our support of this work helped in the printing of 4,000 copies to be distributed in Pakistan. Please consider contributing toward these printing projects, as they are so desperately needed. According to the UCRT, "There has been a tremendous need and a desire for a central platform for Reformed resources in the Urdu language." You can learn more about the recent work of Ligonier Ministries at their website: www.ligonier.org, and you can follow UCRT at www.ucrt.org.

WHAT IS A REFORMED CHURCH?

Our Nepali team has completed a wonderful book for distribution within the Nepali churches. "A true church, Reformed according to God's Word, is the dwelling place of God, maintaining and declaring the truth which He has been pleased to reveal," writes author Malcolm Watts in What Is a Reformed Church? "Watts then looks specifically at the basics of the Reformed faith and explains, both biblically and historically, the distinctives of a Reformed church, its doctrines, and its practices in worship, church government, church discipline, and evangelism." Thanks to your contributions, RTF-USA has now completed twelve books in the Nepali language.
